

What will you do with your million+ dollars?

Everyone dreams of what they'd do if they suddenly won $1 million. Would you live luxuriously? Contribute to a charity? Retire REALLY early?

Surprise: if you're a typical American youth, you will have $1 million. In fact, you can expect to earn more than that by the time you retire—at least $400,000 more if you get a four-year college degree.

Problem is, you won't earn it all at once. You'll also have to spend some of it to take care of yourself. And you will have to manage the rest of it wisely.

Still, you can be a financial success. How? By making wise choices and learning to use your money to get what you want for today AND tomorrow.

Choose Success

Your financial success starts today. As a young person, you make and spend a pretty impressive amount of money. And the financial habits you develop now will stay with you the rest of your life.

Financial Fitness can help you. Through the Financial Fitness peer education program, FCCLA members teach other young people to make, save, and spend money wisely. In the meantime, you build your own financial and leadership skills.

Get involved today, and shape up with Financial Fitness!
