

You are a shining STAR!

Congratulations on your accomplishments which qualified you to represent your state in FCCLA's National Fashion Construction STAR Event! Your commitment to individual success has shone through as you creatively worked to exhibit your fashion construction skills in the finished products now on display in Atlanta. Your creations combined with your overall presentation is just the beginning of what can be your career path in the fashion design and sewing industry.

B-Sew Inn is the World's Largest Baby Lock Retailer and a leader in the sewing industry. It has been our honor to work closely with FCCLA for now over 20 years, and even more of an honor to sponsor this year's National Fashion Construction STAR Event. The talent and passion exhibited in the participants of this event is to be commended!

As a retailer in the sewing industry for over 30 years, we've watched many students pursue their dreams of fashion! There are endless opportunities for your talent; from fashion design to retail merchandising, from pattern making to education, your passion for creativity holds the key to many opportunities for success is your life. A career path utilizing fashion design skill sets will never be without demand!
