

As you may have seen in the news, the City of Nashville is removing all restrictions except a mandatory indoor mask mandate as of May 14, 2021. Based on this information, FCCLA is able to accommodate more registrations for the in-person portion of the 2021 FCCLA Hybrid National Leadership Conference in Nashville, TN. Although restrictions will be lifted in Nashville, TN, FCCLA remains subject to hotel general seating capacity limitations; therefore, we cannot guarantee that all who wish to attend in-person will be able to be accommodated. With this in mind, please note all members, advisers, and guests have the option to register and participate virtually.

It is still each attendee's individual responsibility to make personal health and safety choices given the possible risks of travel to and in-person activities in a city with lifted restrictions.

With this change in the Nashville restrictions, please note the following:

A. If you have no changes to your registration, hotel reservations, and/or travel plans, you do not need to take any action at this time.

Otherwise;

B. If you want to change your in-person registration because you no longer feel comfortable traveling to Nashville, TN you must:

1. No later than Thursday, June 2, 2021, switch your in-person registration to a virtual registration using the Cancel/Substitute/Request button on the 'Meetings and Events' tab in the FCCLA Portal. (If you are bringing students to the in-person conference, please reconfirm with your student's parents their approval for travel.)
2. You must cancel your room reservations by Wednesday, May 5, 2021, in order to avoid the two (2) night room and tax cancellation fee.

C. If you want to make a new registration to attend in-person, you are required to register for the virtual conference and add the in-person conference waitlist item to your registration. FCCLA will work through the waitlist as space allows.

D. If you and/or your chapter members are on the current waitlist as of April 28, 2021, we will be contacting the adviser via email asking the adviser to confirm within two (2) business days which attendees from your chapter that are on the current waitlist would like to still attend the in-person Hybrid National Leadership Conference in Nashville, TN. We will then convert those who confirm that they want to transition to an in-person registration and send lodging information once complete. If we do not hear back from the Chapter Adviser within the two (2) business days, the attendees on the waitlist from that chapter will be moved to the end of the waitlist.

E. As a reminder, registrations – both in-person or virtual are non-refundable.

FCCLA appreciates your patience as we continue to plan for a Hybrid National Leadership Conference based on changes in the government restrictions. As always, please review the Safety Protocol Statement with all attendees coming with you and make choices that best protect you and your member's personal health and safety.
