

REPURPOSE AND REDESIGN

An individual or team event that recognizes participants who apply recycling and redesign skills learned in Family and Consumer Sciences courses and create a display using a sample of their skills. Participants select a used fashion, home or another post-consumer item to repurpose into a new product. Participants will create a brand-new product, but may not simply embellish an old one. However, participants may use additional materials if needed to redesign and creatively embellish the new product. At the event site, participants set up their displays and present their projects to evaluators.

PARTICIPANT TESTIMONIALS

I used men's shirts from my relatives and turned them into trendy clothing for women – skirts, a dress, and a pair of shorts. I turned this project into a small business so I can make similar items for my friends. – Iowa FCCLA Member

Over several months I collected nearly ten pounds of usable household plastic waste. After cleaning and taking apart each bag, wrapper, and package, I melted them together to create "fabric." I used this fabric to create durable and reusable grocery bags and totes. – New York FCCLA Member

I took old socks (with holes, faded prints, or those that were no longer in pairs) and repurposed them by cutting, dyeing, and shaping them into new items such as scrunchies. – Pennsylvania FCCLA Member

I repurposed over 500 plastic bags that I had gathered from neighbors and cleaned off the streets. The bags were cut and then braided into ropes. The rope was then braided and woven into a hammock. – Utah FCCLA Member

My family's ice cream shop receives many packages and I felt that I could find a way to use the foam sheets that came in many of the boxes. I found a way to repurpose the foam and other materials to create draft stoppers for windows and doors. – Wisconsin FCCLA Member
